The above result shows that the teaching faculty of the college seems to be contented on various dimensions such as freedom to adopt new methods of teaching and assessment, opportunities for professional development of faculty members, friendly and non-discriminatory nature of college administration. However, in some fields it needs some improvement and modification to be done such as: medical, sanitation and canteen facility for staff in the college premises. College library can also be more enriched according to the new syllabus under NEP. The teachers are found to be very much enthusiastic to perform their maximum and find the environment of the institution employee friendly. The overall feedback responses from teachers express their higher level of satisfaction, which is always beneficial for the qualitative development and advancement of any institution. Positive attitude of the employees toward the institution is a positive sign for the betterment and progress of the institution.
